DARING HOPE

Our world may seem to be one of struggle ... but in truth Jesus has overcome the world. We are more than victorious, the fight has already been won, and we are called to a bold and daring hope. How then shall we live...?

Reflection - My daring hope - Rev. Shane Kammermann, Cairns Hospital Chaplain,

My daring hope is that the Church is not dying but being transformed in the great unravelling. Institutional unravelling and decline may be the work of God leading to transformation and renewal. Renewal of our institutions included.

Could God be freeing the church to participate more joyfully in the work of Christ in the world? Could weakness and uncertainty be the greatest gift rather than the enemy?

I am discovering Jesus at work in the most unexpected places. In the fringes, not the centre. Not in the 'Jerusalems'. Outside Church controlled territory, in places where privilege and security are absent. Called and sent. It seems to be consistent with the biblical narrative. The church is not dead. Jesus is not watching from a distance but going ahead of us, calling us to join in with all that God is doing. At work in the ordinary and the broken.

Prayer

Dear God - please guide me to face the challenges of this day with the daring hope that all is well. Let my spirit run tirelessly and with joy in the certain knowledge that you set the path and guide my feet.

Thank you for those who are travelling with me, the work we do together and the life we are sharing. In Jesus's name, I pray.

Amen.
